A wireframe diagram of the flight booking form, showing the layout of various input fields and buttons. The diagram uses colored borders to represent different types of elements: blue for text inputs, green for date and passenger selection, pink for the main booking container, and orange for the search button. The layout includes a top navigation bar, a main heading, a category selector, a flight type selector, origin and destination fields, date and passenger selection fields, a checkbox for TrueBlue points, a search button, and a link for baggage fees.
